

The Daily Gazetteer.

NUMB. 1740

FRIDAY, MAY 22. 1741.

E have been often told by all the Parties concerned in our long-sustaining Political Disputes, that the present is a critical Juncture, and that not only our own Safety, but that of all Europe, would in some measure depend upon the Temper of the ensuing Parliament. This the Friends Government have frequently insisted upon, and given a proper Degree of Earnestness in recommending the Consideration of the People. It must be confessed, that the Patriots as they call them, or the Party as they ought to be called, are much in this; and pressed the Criticalness of the Juncture, the Consequences of a right that is the Choice of such Members as they add, to a Degree of Enthusiastick Fury. I am convinced of the Truth of this, we need only recourse to their repeated Addresses to the Electors to avoid any farther Trouble, dip into the last Label, intituled, A Review of a, &c. and there we shall see such eager, such Expressions as cannot but convince us, that something more than ordinary at bottom; that enemies are in a great Measure in earnest; and in respect to them the Complexion of the ensuing Juncture is to determine whether they are to continue in, or to become somewhat else. I most confess whatever my Private Opinion had been, I never have ventur'd to have said this to the Public, one of their own Partizans, one of the principalities of the Faction, had not in the Heat and of his scurrilous Attack upon the Government said it first.

Author I mean is the Writer of the Common Sense, who tells you plainly, and without Disguise, that next Parliament be such a one as his Master like, there is to be a New SECESSION. note, worthy Men! will not afford such a Particular Countenance, but will retire from it, and put the People upon thinking of obtaining elsewhere. A very candid, a very open Declaration, for which the Nation, without doubt, is obliged to him, whatever his Patrons may be. See plainly what it is that makes them so restless, so very uneasy about the Choice of the Parliament. It is to be sure, of great Consequence Government, of great Importance to all the Subjects of Great Britain, and of no small Concern to all but still, it seems, these Gentlemen have a Stake on this Matter, which agitates them so much, that by the Language they use of one would be tempted to doubt, whether well in their Wits, or whether their Zeal has them a little beside their Senses.

See by this Step, what strange Lengths envious appointed Men will go. At first these Gentleman's only with the Ministry; then they grew cold towards their Master; the Two last Parliaments felt the Heat of their Indignation, which seems to fall upon the whole Nation. Here was taken for granted, that the King's Writ and People's Choice constituted a Legal House of Commons, but now the Patriots, that is any Party calling themselves so, claim a Negative Voice, and tell the Country, if you do not choose the Candidates we put to you, we will secede; we will not afford you our Countenance, we will do our utmost to put all Things into Confusion. A Fig for the Safety, a Fig for the Peace of Europe, we value not if you the Electors of Great Britain, in Spite of what we say to you, will choose Placemen for your Representatives, at a Time — when we are out of all Proceeding as this, so bold, so daring an not on the Ministry but on the Constitution, is to defy their Collectors of political Scandal to pollute our History. In vain will they search what the Pamphleteers in King Charles II's time that which was called the Pension Parliament. In all they turn over the Libels against some of King George's Parliaments; in none of these is there any which can come up to this admirable Hint given Mr. Common Sense. No, this was a Stroke of Genius referred with many others for the present Generation. It is without a Precedent, and I hope the Issue of it will be such as will deter all future Factions from thinking it an Example proper to be followed. At least let us have this Satisfaction, that whatever Mischiefs we ourselves sustain, we transmit nothing capable of subverting the Constitution with any the slightest Degree of Credit to Posterity.

It is to me I confess an unaccountable Infatuation these People are under in respect to what they are pleas'd to call a Secession. If ever there was a Secession which could pretend to any Degree of Respect, it was that at Oxford in 1643; for there was King, Lords and Commons, and a very considerable Body they were, and yet the two Houses at Westminster remained the Parliament, even in the King's own Opinion; and these Seceders are dignified by his own Pen with a very ugly Title. If such a Secession as this had little Effect on the Minds of the People, what can be expected from that with which we are threaten'd by the Journalist of the Party? Will it not afford the People the clearest Proof that a Handful of Men have taken it into their Head to rule them, and that rule them they will, tho' they have neither the Choice of their Prince, the Approbation of Parliament, or the Voice of the People to support them? And what can such a wild Attempt issue in, but a fresh and grievous Disappointment.

Their last Flight of this Kind was, one would have thought, sufficient to have cur'd them of their Liking to Secessions. Their Enemies laugh'd at it, the People were offended at it, and the wisest of their Friends condemn'd it, nay, if I am not mightily misinformed, ACHITOPHEL himself, whom the Poet stiles LÆLIUS, was against it. As this was the Case then, what can tempt them to talk of recurring to the same Measure now? Is it Frenzy? is it Despair? Are they transcendently cunning, or hath their Disappointments render'd them distracted? If they think it lawful to disturb, to divide, to distress their Country in order to serve their private Purposes, can they be weak enough to suppose that this can be always done with Impunity, and that their Cant of Patriotism will everlastingly attone for the Mischiefs they do the Publick? No surely; the British Nation are not to be thus treated by any Set of Men, they will I dare say shew upon this Occasion a proper Spirit of Refinement, by putting a Negative upon the Candidates proposed by those who have openly pretended to a Right of putting a Negative upon their Choice.

Neville Holt SPAW,

SITUATED between Market-Harborough and Uppingam in Leicestershire, having been long and with great Success in some few Disorders, is now found, upon a more strict Examination, and in a Variety of successful Experiments, to be capable of far greater and more extensive Usefulness.

It is the only Mineral Water of the Kind, and the strongest in its Minerals, of any in England, and has accordingly produced the most extraordinary and happy Effects. Where the Natural Discharges are either extremely increased, lessened, or obstructed, it seldom fails of its desired Success. In all excessive Relaxations, Hemorrhages, and Ulcerations, it is particularly serviceable. When the Natural Vigour and Tone of any Parts are weaken'd and lost, and the Stomach is sickly and deprav'd, it is a Sovereign Restorative. But as the Efficacy of the Water must be impair'd when carried to any considerable Distance; and as the Drinking it at the Spa can best promise Success, there are very genteel, convenient, and reasonable Accommodations, now ready prepar'd at Blaston Hill near the Spaw, where Gentlemen and Ladies will find every Thing disposed to make the Place as Agreeable, as the Water is Salutary and Beneficial.

BALSAMICK STUFTICK
Truly prepared and sold at the Doctor's late House, now Mr. Dutton's in Salisbury-court, street.

THIS Medicine restrains in a surprizing Manner, all internal as well as external hemorrhages, i.e. it infallibly and quickly stoppeth all the hemorrhages at the Nose or Gums, spitting or vomiting, also the immoderate Flux of the Hemorrhoids or bloody Urine or Stools, bleeding of large Wounds caused according to the plain Directions given in the Certificates of several Eminent Physicians in the large Account of this Medicine, written by the Doctor himself, and dedicated to the College of Physicians before his Death.

It keeps good for many Years, at Sea or on Land, or abroad, i.e. in all Climates, therefore must be very useful.

The Doctor not only obtained his Majesty's Letters for the sole Vending of this most Excellent Medicine, also a Clause in a late Act of Parliament, exempting Medicine from the Inspection of the Censors of the Physicians, to which all other Medicines are liable.

N. B. Some of the Apothecaries prepare a Sepulture Prescription of Helvetius, and use it in the Room of EATON's; but whoever tries both, will soon perceive that Our's exceeds their's in all respects, in a natural Degree.

Bradshaw's Warehouse in the Royal Exchange; Mr. John Potter, Chymist, in Tomew Close; Mr. William Evans, Bookseller, in Little Hammond, Jun. The only short and infallible Cure for that reigning Disease the SCURVY, and all Scordifacient Diseases, who arriv'd to the highest and most inveterate Degree, ever so many Years standing, and that without any febrile Convulsion or the least Purging, which by an unexperienced Physician is generally advised, although always found rather to confirm the Scurvy than cure it.

By the so much famed and most pleasant Chymical DRUG WHICH, without the least Confinement, or any Disorder whatever, doth the true Cause of the Scurvy, and entirely getteth away the Scurvick Humours and Effects, Root and Branch, to return again, as many Thousands of both Sexes have done, and as who take them in 3 Days time will be cured, they almost instantly alter the morbid State of the Joints, Blood, sweeten all the Fluids, cleanse them from Impurities, directly clear the whole Habit from all Spots, Blotches, blue Marks, Itchings, foul Erruptions, or Breakings out of the Lungs, languid Heaviness of the whole Body, Pains, Weakness of the Back, and all such like Symptoms by which the Scurvy imitates and often deceiveth the Appearance of the Rheumatism, and other Diseases.

And for Strengthening the Stomach, improving the Appetite, causing a regular and easy Digestion of Food, without Windy Effects and Disorders of the Intestines, to exceed Head-achs, Vapours and other Indispensions to most other Medicines upon Earth can compare with them, that besides infallibly curing the Scurvy in all its appearances, they also affrely and immediately cure the same in Virgins, Worms of all Kinds in young or old, and other Chronic Diseases, which are chiefly occasioned by the flatulent Crudities in the Stomach and Bowels, and prevent Fevers, Agues, and other scarce Illnesses.

They are wonderfully Cordial and Reulsive, easily enliven the whole Machine, and afford as such, a most pleasant Lightness, brisk and Vigorous to all Persons, good for all Sorts of Persons, to preferre as well as to find a sound and healthy State of Body.

But the great Reputation these formerly had, and still have, to universally gain'd among Persons for their suddenly and infallibly curing the Scurvy and other Chronic Diseases, have occasioned many to imitate them under the same, and others under other Names. Be sure therefore not to be deceiv'd, but be sure to have the right, the Author's special Appointement, are to be had only at the glazier's, at the Two Blue Posts, in Haynes-court, in the Strand, at 3s. 6d. a Bottle, with Directions.

of a Letter from Grantfield Castle in Aberdeen-shire, May 4.

Etwixt ten and eleven o'Clock this Forenoon (after a very clear Morning) the Air began to overcast with Clouds, which was soon followed by terrible Claps of Thunder and Flashes of Lightning, and so continued for about two Hours, the Peals intermitting only for about ten Minutes during that

About one o'Clock there were two dreadful the one six or seven Minutes after the other, so extraordinary that the oldest Man here never heard the like of them discharging themselves like a Cannon. By the Lightning the Lead-on the Cupola Top of the Staircase was melted and the Roof Fire, but being providentially discovered, was extinguished without much Damage; at the same time the Lightning broke into the South Wing of the house upon examining could observe no Crevice through it passed; It pierced the Cupboard of a Room on a second Floor, and tarnished some Plate as if it had been put into the Fire, overset Water-glasses, but none of them were broke, and the Door, broke the Lock, and burst the glass, singed and blackened the Inner-side of it as if it had been held to a Fire till it had been kindled with Water, and drove some of the Brass from off the Clock-case in that Room. In the below, a large Body of Fire was seen under a door near directly under the Cupboard above-mentioned; the Fire died in an instant, but left several of its Subtlety, having burst open some Panels and Wainscoting, splintered severals of them, a Dressing-glass in pieces, split the Case of a Lute into bits, shatter'd the Instrument itself, and the Brafs-wire Strings, sing'd it, made the black, and left a most sulphurous Smell. There several Shelves and Tables in the Closet covered with Glass ware, but none of them touch'd: two Holes in the Top of the Closet, through it seems the Lightning had made its way to the Wardrobe, and the Wainscoting over both was red and much shatter'd. The Cook, and all that in the Kitchen, except one Boy, were struck as if they had been thump'd with a Cudgel; a before the Gate was thrown flat to the Ground, other was dash'd against the Wall of one of the rooms. The whole House was full of a sulphurous smoke, Thanks to Almighty God, not one Person damage. This was succeeded by a prodigious Rain for about two Hours, which made the and Rivulets impassable.

Yesterday Afternoon the News of Admiral Vernon's Carthagena, &c. reach'd this Place, upon which Bells in Town were order'd to ring, and continued Intermission till Midnight: The Illuminations were general throughout the Town; a large bonfire was made in every Parish, and great Quantities of Beer were given to the Populace; Healths to the brave and glorious Vernon, Ogle, the bold Sailors, &c. with them. In short, a Joy diffus'd itself thro' the whole Town, and was concluded without one Quarrel, or one being broke. Great Rejoicings were likewise at Wimpole (near this Place) upon the same occasion, that being the Seat of the Lord High Chancellor. QUERIES address'd to the Proprietors of the Two MONTHLY MAGAZINES.

I. WHETHER thro' their Influence the Printers of certain Daily Papers and Evening Posts, did not refuse to advertise the PUBLICK REGISTER, or WEEKLY MAGAZINE?

II. Whether this could proceed from any other Motive than their being conscious, that they could not procure so early and full an Account of the Debates, as is, and will be contain'd in the said PUBLICK REGISTER?

III. Whether their Account of the said Debates can be look'd upon as full, connected, or early, since they have had nothing as yet of what pass'd in the last Session; and have for next Month advertised Two Debates that happened towards its Close?

IV. Whether, as this is the Case, the said PUBLICK REGISTER ought not now to be look'd upon as the only Paper containing the Debates?

V. Whether from those Debates already given in the PUBLICK REGISTER, the World has not Reason to believe they will be publish'd with the most impartial and strict REGARD to Truth, without Attachment to any Party whatsoever?

Lastly, Whether the PUBLICK REGISTER does not contain a far greater Variety of Original Letters, Essays, Poems, and other Matters of Entertainment, than either of the Magazines, besides that it answers the End of a News-Paper, by coming out every Week, which neither of those Pamphlets can pretend to?

This Day is Published,

The FOURTH EDITION of PAMELA:
OR,
VIRTUE Rewarded.
IN

A Series of FAMILIAR LETTERS from a Beautiful Young DAMSEL, to her PARENTS. Now first published in order to cultivate the Principles of VIRTUE and RELIGION in the Minds of the YOUTH of Both SEXES.

A Narrative which has its Foundation in TRUTH and NATURE; and at the same time that it agreeably entertains, by a Variety of curious and affecting Incidents, is entirely divested of all those Images, which, in too many Pieces calculated for Amusement only, tend to inflame the Minds they should instruct.

Printed for C. Rivington, in St. Paul's Church-yard; and J. Osborn, in Pater-noster Row.

Certain Booksellers having in the Press a spurious Continuation of these Two Volumes (in Letters from Pamela to Mrs. Jervis her Housekeeper) the Author thinks it necessary to declare, that the same is carrying on against his Consent, and without any other Knowledge of the Story than what they are able to collect from the Two Volumes already printed: And that he is actually continuing the Work himself, from Materials, that, perhaps, but for such a notorious Invasion of his Plan, he should not have published.

Concerning Gleets and Seminal Weakness of all Kinds.

ALL judicious Physicians and Singers allow, that nothing is more difficult to cure than Stubborn Gleets and Seminal Weakness, whether occasion'd by too severe purging for Venereal Injuries, Strains, Pollution, &c. or any other Cause whatever; that they are dangerous in their Consequences, as difficult to cure, as is certain, since they generally affect the Generative Faculties, insomuch the whole Nervous System is often bring on Hectick Feats, Tabes Dorsois, Inflammation of the Back, or an Atrophy or Nervous Constriction which frequently terminate in Death itself.

All such, therefore, who have the Misfortune to be troubled with Old or Stubborn Gleets, Seminal Effusions, Intemperance, Excessive Nocturnal Pollutions, or any other Weaknesses of the Kidneys, Ureters, or Bladder, the Disease of Urine, or Difficulty of holding the Urine, would doubtless be glad to meet with a certain speedy Cure, which they most assuredly may, by only a small Quantity of a transcendent BALSAMICK RESTRACTIVE ELECTUARY, now published for a general use after having for many Years been experience'd never to fail perfectly curing the most Stubborn Gleets in a few Days, without Difficult or Trouble; and other Weaknesses of the Back, Reins, Seminal and Urinary Vessels to rights and restoring all those Parts and Passages to natural Tone and pristine Vigour, in a very expeditious Manner, and by taking a few Doses of it only.

This transcendent BALSAMICK RESTRACTIVE ELECTUARY is neither disagreeable to take, nor occasions the indigestion, but is a wonderful Restorative in all Weaknesses and Diseases of any Kind, and particularly Insanity, Back, Reins, Seminal and Urinary Vessels to an immediate Cure, insomuch that in any Debility of them, one Dose does more than ten of any other Remedy yet found out, and all Persons fatigued with Gleets or Seminal Weaknesses, Sort, or Weaknesses of the Urinary Vessels, who take it in three Days time find it to be very effectual, that they are most agreeably surprised at it.

When a Medicine will infallibly accomplish such a speedy and perfect Cure of such difficult Maladies, as Gleets and Seminal Weaknesses are, as this Great Remedy will directly will, even after all other Means and Medicines have been tried in vain; too much cannot be said in it, and All who ever took it for any of the above-mentioned Diseases have readily declared.

The Price is but 6s. a Pot, altho' for its absolute Value one Pot alone being sufficient in most Cases to answer a Cure, worth ten times as much, and by the special Appointment, is to be had only at Mr. Parry's Toy-shop, at the Rose and Crown against St. George's Church-Yard in the Strand, ready sealed up, with the Instructions, which whosoever carefully reads will easily know, when the Gleet or Weakness he is afflled with succeds a Venereal Injury, whether all the Malignant Foul Disease is intirely eradicated or not.

Note, Ask only for a 6s. Pot of Balsamic Electuary.

The most Fam'd and long Experienced Chymist in the world, say this, has made his great Success and Benefit to the Publick, by his own Discovery, and his Predecessors, in Boar's-Head-Court, Fleet-street; and, since Mr. Parry's Death, he and still are sold only by Mr. Read in his Vial, at his House in White-Fryars. (N.B. in just by the Sun Tavern in Fleet-street, and in great Corner House in White-Fryars; READ, in great Letters, is wrote over the Door. They are a most Incomparable and never-failing Remedy for the immediate Relief and perfect Cure of confirmed ASTHMA of the longest standing: And of all Sorts of CONSUMPTIONS, now far advanced, as not to be cured by any other in the World.

FOR their Virtues vastly exceed all thing that ever was published, or even known in the whole World, in the Cure of the worst Asthma and Consumption of all Sorts, Coughs, Colds, Catarrhs, &c.

They instantly relieve the Patient in the most violent Fit of an Asthma, and make a perfect Cure in a short Time; for they gently open the Breast, and immediately Liberty of Breathing, without danger of taking Cold, admirably allay the Tickling, which provokes frequent Coughing, and take off the uneasy Sensation of asthmatic murrays, cleanse the small Glands, relax the Fibres, and enlarge the Capacities of the Vessels; thus they quickly Cure the most obstinate Asthma of the longest standing.

They speedily and to Admiration cure all Sorts of Consumption, Ulcers of the Lungs, &c. removing all Obstruction of the Breast, and Lungs, Hoarseness, Wheezing, &c. Loss of Breath, and all the usual Symptoms when the Beginnings of a Consumption; and, if taken in time, will probably prevent one when feated. They are also corrective and strengthening to Persons of weakly Constitution, and have no other sensible Operation than mentioned.

In short, these unparalleled Chymical Drops are the infallible Remedy that ever was known (and the chiefest of the faint Efforts of all Counterfeitors or Imitators for Ailments above-mentioned, and allowed to be by the Judicious amongst the Learned in Physick; and exceeding the largest Experience in private Practice, and are much liked for Common Good.
